Novak Construction Company Builds on Its Reputation; Announces New CFO/COO, Michael Kanzler

Accounting & Finance Veteran Joins Top Tier Commercial Contractor

Chicago, Illinois (April 8, 2014) – Novak Construction Company announces the appointment of Mr. Michael W. Kanzler as Novak’s Chief Financial and Operations Officer. Mr. Kanzler brings more than three decades of sophisticated finance experience to his new role, having previously led the financial and accounting spheres for highly successful privately-held firms, including the Chicago-based Ty, Inc. and Optima, Inc.

Novak has garnered the reputation for unprecedented repeat client business based on its proven construction methodologies and client-driven processes.

“We welcome Mike’s experience and leadership to Novak Construction as someone who will help me direct the company into new market segments and expand our business,” said Mr. John Novak, Founder/President. “Mike brings a solid foundation of understanding critical business objectives that are priorities to this ownership, and brings an energy, vision and momentum to drive growth and enhance all of our teams’ efforts.”

“In his role as CFO, Michael will be responsible for guiding operations and helping us identify and secure the best business development opportunities to complement our current customer base – many long-standing relationships of ours of which I am extremely proud. His results-oriented approach and ability to think strategically will play a pivotal role in extending our track record, while helping us grow profitability.”

“I am excited and honored to be part of the Novak Construction Company team, building on its solid foundation of quality projects and helping it to realize new opportunities in this industry and across a greater geography,” states Mr. Kanzler. “I am committed to adding even more efficiencies to the projects that Novak delivers, which will enhance the clients’ investment in our work and our bottom line.”

Michael earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Accountancy from the University of Illinois in Champaign-Urbana, is a Certified Public Accountant, and holds Series 7 & 63 certifications. He remains an active rugby player and is an inveterate outdoorsman with a passion for bow hunting and fly fishing.
